Wealth Management in Indonesia – Opportunities & Great Challenges

- What are the key developments in the Indonesian Wealth & Asset Management market?
- How must wealth managers drive innovation and reformat the value proposition?
- What's the outlook for the insurance offering to different segments of clients?
- What do clients in Indonesia expect from their wealth managers and how will the key players adapt and better engage with them in the future?
- Can the wealth industry boost their proposition across all the key segments – from the mass affluent to the UHNW clients?
- How do the key players intend to evolve and grow their platforms?
- What needs to happen in order to significantly expand the range of available investments in the country?
- Will there ever be greater access to offshore assets and who will win that business?
- Will the industry be able to convert more of the end clients to advisory and discretionary mandates, and if so how?
- How specifically will the industry need to adapt due to the pandemic and its aftermath?
- Are the competitors in Indonesia investing wisely and productively in digital solutions?
