The Vital Future of the Relationship Manager in Asia

- Do we really understand how important an RM is today?
- Breakdown of a RMs day – how can you structure your time better?
- How do we get training and professional development right?
- How can RMs be more efficient?
- What does client centric really mean? Do we have enough time for clients?
- Do RMs have the right tools to get the job done?
- What does the perfect business model look like?
- How can technology help? How can it help manage the RMs day?
- What is an RM workstation and how can this make a difference?
- How can you guide the RM without disempowering them?
