UAE and Singapore – Wealth Structuring Opportunities

- How is the UAE positioning itself as a wealth managing centre?
- What is the current state of the UAE wealth management market, and what are the key advantages it offers regional and global UHNWIs?
- Can UAE compete effectively with Singapore / Switzerland as a go-to centre for single-family offices and UHNW clients? And if so, how?
- What has the UAE and Singapore done to become more relevant and interesting for UHNW families and family offices?
- Is UAE today mainly a wealth management hub for HNW and UHNW clients from India and the Middle East, or is it more, is it global in its appeals for these clients?
- How closely involved are the second and third generations be in this estate and succession planning, and how involved should they be?
- What have the government and the regulators/authorities been doing to widen the appeals of UAE for the location or expansion of single-family offices? In short, why should families set up a SFO in UAE?
- Would increasing compliance and proposed Corporate tax will have impact on existing structures for investments and would it impact attractiveness of UAE as destination?
- How does the region's wealth advisory community deliver advice and structures across multiple jurisdictions?
- What role does Residency & Citizenship planning play in the overall estate and legacy planning?
